What is PEDS?

Personalised Eating Disorder Support (PEDS) is a specialist eating disorder charity based in Peterborough, supporting individuals in Cambridgeshire and further afield where capacity allows.

We offer our service users individual sessions which are tailored to meet the unique needs of each person. We also provide family sessions which include practical help, education and support. We also offer outreach/exposure work in the local community.

Education, advice and training packages can also be provided to schools and other organisations for a donation.

PEDS became an independent eating disorder charity in April 2014. Prior to this, since 2013 we provided services as an affiliate of the Luton based eating disorder charity, CARALINE.

Who we are

PEDS was founded by two Registered Nurses Sue Rattle and Mandy Scott who have over 30 years joint experience working with people with Eating Disorders. PEDS works with both children and adults.

Our team consists of:

Eating Disorder Specialists including Nurses, Peer Support Workers, Nutritionist, Service Manager, Charity Coordinator, Administrator & Wellbeing Support Officer and our invaluable volunteers.

What do we do?

Our focus is to work alongside individuals and their families to help acknowledge and understand the illness. We can help provide tools to support recovery and assist with practicalities e.g. meal planning and support, managing difficult thoughts and behaviors and ensuring physical safety.

We work closely with GPs, Hospitals, CAMHS (Child & Adolescent Mental Health Service), the local NHS Adult Eating Disorder Team, Community Mental Health Teams, the local University, Schools / Colleges and local voluntary organisations.

Can We Help You?

- Do you find yourself constantly thinking and worrying about food?
- Are you are unhappy with your body?
- Do you avoid social situations?
- Do you think often about how you would feel if food did not dominate your life?

Would you like help to change your thoughts and behaviors?
